Miss Kenyon Refutes Claim She's Communist

Sen. McCarthy Rests;
Committee Seeks Way
To Get All Names

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—Senate investigators today pressed Senator McCarthy for more names to back up his charges of communism in the State Department. But McCarthy replied he needs "a couple of nights of sleep" before he proceeds.

The Wisconsin Republican's plea for more time came after Dorothy Kenyon, one of those he has accused of being pro-Communist, retorted tartly:

"There is not a communist bone in my body."

Miss Kenyon, former American delegate on a United Nations commission, took the witness stand yesterday afternoon. She denied emphatically McCarthy's contention that she has a background of "deeply rooted communist activities."

Her denial came on the heels of disavowals, too, on the part of others whom McCarthy accused yesterday of being bad security risks.

After the Senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charges heard Miss Kenyon, the group scheduled a meeting behind closed doors for today.

Senator Tydings (D-Md) said the session was called to (1) discuss ways of speeding up the inquiry and (2) to see what can be done about getting names of the 81 "security risk" cases which McCarthy outlined to the senate Feb. 20.

So far McCarthy has given the committee the names of only one or two of the 81 individuals.

"It is absolutely baffling," Tydings said, "that charges were made in 81 cases, but we can't get the names. What is the use of charging disloyalty if you let them stay there (in the State Department) for six months?"

"Obviously, we can't investigate a person whose name we don't know."

In reply, McCarthy told reporters that he will turn over all of the names as soon as he can finish documenting the cases. He added that he won't be able to do it, or to resume testimony at public

Cvetec Wins Thanks For Red Information

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—Matthew Cvetec has won the thanks of the house Un-American Activities Committee for his story of what he learned about Communists in the years he was chummy with them.

When Cvetec finally wound up his long, detailed recital of Communist activity in Western Pennsylvania late yesterday, Rep. Harrison (D-Pa.) told him he was "entitled to the gratitude of the American people."

Cvetec gave the committee the names of scores of persons—chiefly in Western Pennsylvania—who he said were active in Communist affairs. He learned about Communists during the nearly ten years he mingled with them in his role as an FBI undercover agent.

Cvetec said Steve Nelson, district organizer for the Communists in Western Pennsylvania, always referred to this country as "the enemy." Premier Stalin of Russia was always called "Comrade Stalin," Cvetec testified.

Hunt Sheriff's Slayer In Mexico

MARFA, Tex., March 15—(AP)—The hunt for the slayer of Texas Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow has shifted to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

Officers reported last night that the fugitive's trail led to the Rio Grande about nine miles above Presidio, Tex.

A small group of U. S. officers joined Mexican officials in an effort to flush the man out of northern Mexico's mountains.

Taft Suggests Check On Steel

Feels U. S. Steel
Power Too Dominant

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) proposed today that Congress look into the question of limiting the amount of business any single steel company can do.

Taft made his proposal in a weekly report to Ohio voters. Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) disclosed meanwhile that the Democratic majority of the Senate-House economic committee believes there is no practical competition within the steel industry.

Differing with O'Mahoney, Taft said that in his opinion the evidence taken by the committee "shows there is no collusion between the companies and that competition is reasonably active."

"I do think," the Ohio Senator said, "there is a doubtful question, namely, whether the position of the United States Steel Corp. is so predominant that it has power to fix prices and at least modify the usual effect of competition."

In this connection, Taft said he thinks the lawmakers "should consider whether we should place a limit on the proportion of any industry which can be controlled by any company and whether it is possible to make the Sherman (Anti-Trust) act more definite and effective."

Taft previously has contended that the majority report of the committee—which hasn't been issued yet—points toward government price fixing for steel.

O'Mahoney has denied this emphatically.

O'Mahoney said in a statement last night that it is "common knowledge" that competition has been undermined in the steel industry.

"Any contention or pseudo-contention that competition exists in the steel industry can only be made in the belief that the public has a short memory," he said.

Taft said that the present price of steel may be too high. But he added that, regardless of competition, increases in pension costs for the companies are going to be reflected in higher prices.

He said that steel profits are undoubtedly high. This, he said, may be due to the high demand for steel which has kept up since the war.

Sales Indicate Increase Of Motor Vehicle Tags

An increase in the sale of motor vehicle license plates this year is indicated by the number of sales made during the first half of March, according to Deputy Registrar Nina D. Morris of Salem.

To date, 2,200 passenger car plates have been sold, along with 450 truck licenses. Mrs. Morris estimates that 3,000 to 3,500 more passenger plates will be sold and about 1,500 more for trucks.

She urged motorists to get their plates soon and thus avoid a last-minute crush at the Motor Club office. The office is open from 9 to 5:30 p. m. daily.

Reuther Urges $174 Pensions

Says That's Figure
Elderly Couple Needs

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—Labor Leader Walter Reuther said today a $174 monthly pension is needed to provide an elderly couple with even a bare standard of living.

This is more than four times what retired couples get now from the federal Social Security program. It is more than double the House-approved expansion of the program's retirement benefits now being considered by the Senate finance committee.

Reuther gave the committee, in a prepared statement, a recommended $2,089 annual budget to meet what he called the minimum needs of a retired couple.

This budget provided such things as food, fuel, medical attention, etc., allowing the man one overcoat every eight years and his wife one house dress every year.

A budget for "a truly American standard of living," he added, would require a pension for a retired couple of more than $200 a month.

The CIO leader said labor feels the best way to handle the retirement problem is by raising benefits and coverage of the present Social Security system. But he warned that until a real job is done by Congress on this, the labor unions will press employers for supplemental pensions.

Reuther did not say, however, how much labor wanted the federal plan expanded before it would be willing to drop its own efforts to obtain benefits from employers.

Besides a vast expansion of benefits, Reuther called for including farmers and self-employed persons, as well as others now exempt, in the program. He also urged benefits for workers becoming temporarily or permanently disabled.

As to costs, he said his and the CIO's proposals probably would require $6,300,000,000 by 1955. He said the money should be raised from a maximum of two per cent on employers' wages and four per cent on employers' payrolls, with the balance paid out of the federal treasury.

11 Die In Crashes Of British Planes

BETHESDA, Wales, March 15—Two Royal Air Force four-engined bombers crashed on training flights over Britain today, killing 11 crewmen.

One man escaped alive from the two disasters.

One of the bombers crashed 2,000 feet up on the slopes of Carnedd Llwyliw, one of the highest peaks in Wales.

The Air Ministry said all six men aboard the ship perished. Their bodies were recovered by an RAF mountain rescue unit.

The other crash occurred during a landing at Hemsall, near Lincoln, shortly before dawn. Five Air Force men were killed and one man escaped with injuries.

Both planes were on training flights.

The Wales crash occurred 150 miles north of Llandow, where 80 persons were killed in the crash of a chartered Tudor airliner Sunday.

Guns Turned On Income Tax Dodgers

Rewards Offered
To Informers; Old
Indictments Hurried

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—The government rained its guns on tax dodgers—past and future alike—as it came up to the 1949 income tax payment deadline at midnight tonight.

To get help in bringing to light new evasion attempts, it dangled before prospective tax informers a $500,000 pool of funds available this year for evidence uncovering tax frauds.

To mop up on cases involving income amassed in the big war profit year of 1943, it asked grand juries over to country to rush indictments today lest the law's time-lapse limits bar further action.

An indictment, or some other form of action such as the filing of a bill of complaint, has to be in the record by midnight to get within the time limit as to 1943 returns.

As for informers, they will have a chance to ring up a record haul this year for the third year in a row.

There are more than 40,000,000 persons subject to the federal income tax. How many will try to cut corners is just a guess.

Last year was a big year for informers—and the government. The government paid out $449,984 to 97 informers, in rewards ranging from $35.86 to $47,072, for aid that led to the recovery of $8,187,914 in taxes that otherwise would have escaped detection.

That completely overshadowed the previous record tallied in 1948, when informer rewards totaled $99,975 and led to recoveries totaling $2,351,000.

The main reasons for tax informing—patriotic desire to prevent evasions, disfigurement of employees with their bosses, family feuds and jealousies, and women scorned—endure in peace as well as in war.

The biggest reward to date, $80,000 that was split among three people, came in a case where the government recovered $2,600,000 back in the depressed mid-1930s.

Judge Says Lora Lee Changes
Story, Wasn't Kept Hungry

HOLLYWOOD, March 15—(AP)—Runaway Lora Lee Michel, 9-year-old $100 a day actress, has reversed her stories of being starved to keep thin for movie roles, says Juvenile Judge A. A. Scott.

"She is a precocious, emotional child who could get a lot of people into trouble," Judge Scott said last night after a long interview with the child.

He said she told him she had never been beaten or starved by her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michel, and that they had been wonderful to her.

Monday night the youngster left the Michel's apartment and, clad only in pajamas, took a cab to the home of Rev. Alfred Sundstrum in nearby Burbank.

He said she told him "I had to get away, I couldn't stand it any longer."

Housing Issue Faces Vote

Middle Income Bill
Decision Expected

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—The Senate came up to an important vote today on President Truman's proposal of government housing aid for "middle income families."

The test, set for sometime after 4:30 p. m. by prior Senate agreement, was expected to be decided on a close vote.

At issue is a proposal to use $1,000,000,000 of government credit for long-term, low-interest loans to cooperatives and other non-profit groups. The loans would be expected to aid groups of families, with incomes averaging between $2,400 and $4,700 a year, to rent or own better housing.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala) and other advocates of the plan—which already has been cut in half and revised—contended in reply to criticism it is not as inflationary as more than $2,000,000,000 already pledged to large-scale rental projects.

Senators Long (D-La), Russell (D-Ga) and Lehman (D-Lib-NY) joined Sparkman in hammering away at past and present government housing guarantees.

Long told the senate yesterday that some speculators had been able to "pocket 20 cents of every dollar" advanced under government-guaranteed loans.

The test on middle income housing will come first on a motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) to knock the cooperative provisions out of the omnibus housing bill.

If the Bricker move fails Senators Ives (R-NY) and Tobey (R-NH) have a substitute which would allow the cooperatives to obtain government insured mortgages on the same basis now available to other housing builders or buyers.

The decrees were signed in federal court yesterday, with ASCAP agreeing to terms drawn by the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice.

The main provisions of the decrees will do this:

1. Force ASCAP to cut all ties with international organizations that might lead to a monopoly of foreign music in the U. S.

2. Make ASCAP end all arrangements giving it sole control of a foreign country's music, or which require similar foreign societies to deal with ASCAP.

3. Require ASCAP to offer movie producers and television stations a single license to cover all performances of music in a film or telecast.

4. Prevent ASCAP from suing movie exhibitors (theater owners) for royalties.

5. Give any commercial user of music who questions ASCAP's royalty rates a court review of them.

Reuther, here for congressional testimony on social security as president of the CIO-United Auto Workers, was expected to meet with Ching sometime during the day.

Potato Plan To End Surplus

New Give-away Idea
Due To Be Passed

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—A far-reaching give-away program, intended to lift the surplus potato burden from the farm price support plan, may be on President Truman's desk by the week end.

The program is included in compromise legislation, that also seeks to remove inequities in cotton and peanut acreage allotments for the 1950 crop. The measure, approved yesterday by a Senate-House conference committee, is expected to get prompt approval by the two houses.

It would authorize about 1,250,000 additional acres for the 1950 cotton plantings, and boost peanut acreage by about 100,000, principally in Alabama and Texas.

Provisions for wheat acreage adjustments were dropped from the bill with the understanding that they will be handled later in separate legislation.

Here's what the compromise does:

The Secretary of Agriculture is authorized not only to give away surplus potatoes bought by the government but also to pay the transportation for their delivery to such recipients as public and private non-profit institutions and organizations.

Gifts of potatoes may be made abroad, through international organizations, and the United States government would pay the freight to the American port where the potatoes are to be loaded for shipment.

The bill makes a start at getting to the bottom of the surplus production problem. It provides 1950 price supports for only those potatoes produced by farmers operating under marketing agreements or, if it is too late to institute such agreements generally, the supported growers must operate under a program devised by the secretary for orderly movement of the spuds to markets.

For 1951 the bill provides supports only for potatoes operating under a marketing quota system. Details of this system will be worked out in separate legislation.

Reuther Will Meet Ching On UAW Strike

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching invited Labor Leader Walter Reuther today to discuss the Auto Workers' strike at the Chrysler Corp. The bid indicated mounting government concern over the long deadlock.

The strike began Jan. 25 over the union's demand for a 10 cent hourly allocation per worker to cover $100 monthly pensions or a wage increase, and the 90,000 production workers walked out. The company also balked at giving the union a voice in administering the pension fund.

Reuther, here for congressional testimony on social security as president of the CIO-United Auto Workers, was expected to meet with Ching sometime during the day.

Red Satellite Irked Over Refusal Of Loan

Says Rebuke Came
Because Poland
Bucked Marshall Plan

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—Poland withdrew from the World Bank today with an angry charge that the 48-nation institution is under the thumb of the United States and "its imperialist policy." It also pulled out of the international monetary fund.

In a communication to the bank, the Communist-dominated Polish government cited the refusal of the bank to grant a $200,000,000 loan. It said the reason was Poland's rejection of "the so-called Marshall plan which had as its aim the subordination of Europe to the United States and the rebuilding of the war potential of Germany."

Camille Gutt, managing director of the international monetary fund, announced Poland's withdrawal from membership in it.

The bank announced the Polish letter had been referred to its board of directors and that a reply would be made "in due course." It made no further comment.

Poland's withdrawal from the two institutions marked the end of one more of the formal ties between Western nations and the countries behind the Soviet "Iron Curtain."

A spokesman for the Czech embassy indicated his government might follow Poland's example and resign too.

"I'm sure some such matter has been discussed in Prague," he said "but I do not know if any decision has been taken."

Superfort Reach Increase Seen

Refueling Tankers Jump Big Plane Use

WASHINGTON, March 14—(AP)—The Air Force expects Superfortresses to increase their reach by 1,000 miles and more as a result of tanker planes being added to nine groups of these medium bombers.

The Superfortresses are the B-29 of World War II and a more powerful version of it, the B-50. The strategic air command has nine groups of these planes. Recently the defense department announced that these groups were being reorganized to increase the number of bombers in each from 30 to 45, and to add 20 B-29 tanker planes to each group. Every one of the nine groups is reported to have part of its tankers now, the numbers ranging from one to 18 per group.

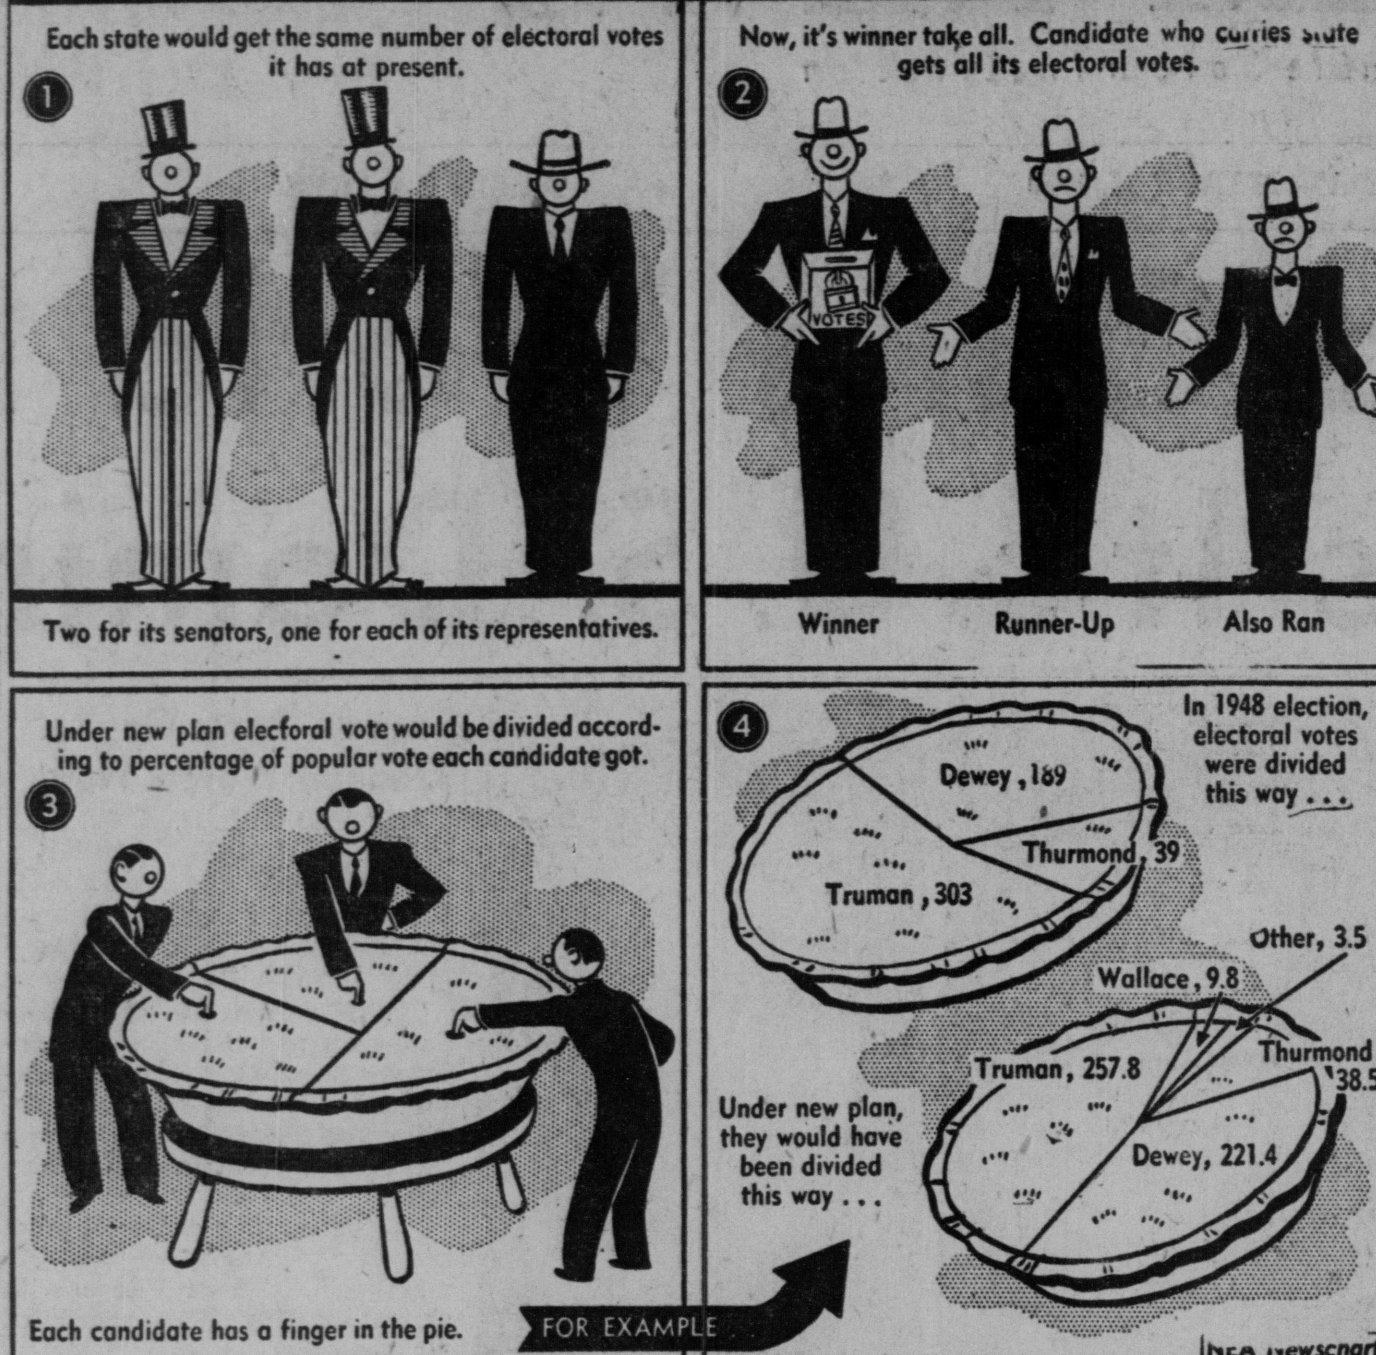

An Air Force spokesman said today the combat radius of the B-29 bombers can be increased from 2,000 to 3,000 miles by a single refueling from tankers operating from the same bases. (The combat radius of the B-29 without refueling is 2,000 miles.)

He expressed belief the radius of the B-50s, which is 2,300 miles without refueling, could be increased in similar proportion by teamwork with the tankers.

A B-50 flew non-stop around the world last year, with air-to-air refueling by tanker planes stationed along the route.

Because of the relatively short combat radius of fighter planes it is reported that the Air Force plans, in case of war, to send its bombers unescorted over enemy territory in bad weather or in darkness. It is expected also that they would go in small numbers and irregular patterns, instead

Peacemakers Decry H-Bomb Order, Won't Pay All Tax

YELLOW SPRINGS, March 15 (AP)—Today—March 15—is the deadline for millions of citizens filing federal income tax returns. But it is a day of special significance for Mrs. Caroline F. Urie, Quaker widow.

For the third time the local woman will refuse to pay the portion of her income taxes she figures the government will use for "war purposes."

After studying government appropriations, Mrs. Urie, who is 76, figures 30.25 per cent of her income taxes would be used for "war purposes."

Thus far nothing has happened because of her refusal on two other occasions to pay the full amount, and for these reasons:

Because of the nature of her income, Mrs. Urie is required to make an estimate for the current year, and pay a quarterly installment or more when the estimate is filed. March 15 is the filing deadline.

Most taxpayers, whose income from wages and who are subject to the withholding tax, settle up on March 15 for income earned last year.

Two years ago Mrs. Urie filed an estimate for 1948 income, and then paid the entire estimate, less 34.6 per cent she thought would be used for "war purposes."

However, the tax rate was reduced that year, and her income was less than she had estimated. Thus, when the year ended she found she actually had paid the entire tax.

The next year—1949—she filed an estimate and "deducted" 32.3 per cent. She decided to pay the tax quarterly. Members of the "Peacemakers," an organization opposed to paying taxes for "war purposes," say she will not become officially delinquent in payments for 1949 until tomorrow—March 16.

A member of the organization estimated that her income tax probably would amount to about $100. Mrs. Urie did not reveal what her tax bill would be.

The "peacemakers," which has its headquarters in New York City, said in an announcement that six other Yellow Springs residents will refuse to pay the same percentage of their taxes, for the same reason.

Mrs. Urie wrote, the collector of internal revenue and President Truman of her intentions. Her letter to the President said in part:

"Your public authorization for the production of the hydrogen bomb by our government shocked thoughtful people in this country into realizing that this is the climax of the sinister world leadership the United States has now assumed in the most appalling suicidal public program of recorded history—deliberate preparations for mass extermination of human society."

The announcement by the "Peacemakers" said these couples from Yellow Springs would refuse to pay a part of their taxes: Dr. and Mrs. Horace Champney, Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Temple, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dyer.

Lausche To Check Robber's Release

COLUMBUS, March 15—(AP)—James (Jim) Newman, convicted bank robber, has been granted a parole, but Gov. Frank J. Lausche says he plans to "look into" the wisdom of releasing the 37-year-old man.

Newman's parole was granted by a two-to-one vote of the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission. It is effective April 20.

During his crime career which began in 1914, Newman twice escaped from Ohio penitentiary and once escaped a county prison in New Jersey.

Last night the governor said: "Word has reached me questioning the wisdom of releasing him (Newman) in the face of his previous record. I know nothing about the matter so therefore I cannot express an opinion. I do intend to look into the matter."

Penitentiary Warden Ralph Alvis said Newman was "a good inmate."

Newman started serving a life sentence March 17, 1931, for robbing a bank in nearby Westerville, O., of $6,529. He walked away while working as a trusty at the State Highway Department garage in Columbus on May 12, 1944. He was arrested July 25, 1945, in Cleveland, and returned to the penitentiary.

Lustron Battles To Continue

Plan Reported To Make Firm Solvent

WASHINGTON, March 15—(AP)—An eleventh hour effort to keep alive the Lustron prefabricated housing venture faced a major test today.

Reconstruction Finance Corp. officials had a date with private investors who, they said, have evolved a plan to make the big Columbus, Ohio, prefab plant solvent.

They indicated that a major problem for discussion is how much of Lustron's $37,500,000 debt to the government the unidentified new group might shoulder. Lustron is in receivership as a result of an RFC foreclosure suit.

Harvey L. Gunderson, RFC director, disclosed the new rescue move yesterday at a Senate banking committee hearing. The same meetings brought into the open a drive in Congress to strip the RFC of authority over the Lustron loans and the lending of money to other prefabs.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt) proposed that the entire government loan program to prefabs be shifted from hands of the RFC to those of the Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA). The committee refused immediate action on Flanders' request, but a bill to make the shift may be introduced in a week or so.

Senator Taylor (D-Ia) told a reporter the bill also would propose transfer to HHFA of the big federal national mortgage agency, an RFC subsidiary which buys government-insured mortgages under various housing acts.

Gunderson told the banking committee members of the investor group are "very reputable—very capable." They are men, he said, who could put the company on its feet.

The RFC has said it fears a simple foreclosure and forced sale of assets might involve a loss of $30,000,000 on the loans. It is angling to salvage as much as possible through some other means.

Meanwhile Rep. Cole (R-Kans), long-time critic of the Lustron loans, renewed his efforts to get House rules committee approval of his demand for an investigation of how Lustron happened to get so much RFC money.

He addressed a letter to the committee urging it to approve the inquiry, and attached a memorandum saying the Lustron loans discriminated against other prefab firms which did not borrow from the government.

Crash Clips Power, Causes 2nd Mishap

KENT, March 15—(AP)—A fatal traffic accident near here yesterday set off another collision and a power blackout.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kosciuszko, 28, New Castle, Pa., was killed when a car driven by her husband, Alfonso, crashed head-on into a truck. Kosciuszko, 29, was taken to a Ravenna, O., Hospital, suffering shock. The truck driver, Harold Breese, 32, Cranbury, N. J., was not hurt.

The truck hit a utility pole, cutting electrical power in the area.

A traffic signal blinked out at the intersection of routes 224 and

LOSES 57 LBS. RENNEL BENEFITS OHIO LADY

"I am telling my friends about Rennel Concentrate since it has done wonders for me," writes Miss Della Berry, 745 Pennsylvania Ave., Columbus 8, Ohio. "When I started taking Rennel I weighed 227 lbs. and now my weight is 170 lbs. I am still taking Rennel and will do so until my weight is where I want it to be."

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Insist on genuine Rennel.

Testimony Ends In Paper Suit

Lorain Journal Case Now Up To Judge

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—Testimony in the government's anti-trust suit against the Lorain Journal has ended. It is now up to Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed to decide whether Justice department attorneys proved their charge—that the daily has been acting in restraint of trade through its advertising policies.

The main tack the government lawyers have taken is that The Journal jeopardized Radio Station WEOL's right to do business by refusing to print its advertisements and by denying space to advertisers who patronized the station.

Both federal and Journal lawyers declared yesterday that basic rights were at stake in the case.

Victor H. Kramer, chief government counsel, insisted, "the evidence has shown an attack upon the rights of other people to conduct and carry on their business as they see fit."

Parker Fulton, lawyer for The Journal replied, "if the government can get a throttle on newspapers through their advertising, freedom of the press will go," Fulton argued.

By "throttle," Fulton meant the injunction sought by the prosecution. It would require The Journal, Lorain's only daily, to stop banning advertisements of merchants because they also used WEOL, of Lorain and nearby Elyria.

One of the major arguments in court yesterday was whether interstate commerce was involved, a requisite of the Sherman Anti-Trust law.

Kramer said that as long as a single electronic sound carried the radio signal into the next state, he asserted, WEOL was in interstate commerce.

Fulton replied that although the station might be in the realm of interstate commerce mechanically speaking, it was his opinion that "it can be a local operation in a business sense."

The prosecution brought 65 government witnesses to the stand in the eight-day trial. The Journal presented only one witness for the defense, Publisher Samuel A. Horvitz.

HELPFUL DOOR BELL

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—A fire fused two doorbell wires yesterday and caused the bell to sound an alarm. Mrs. Frank Panzanella, finding no one at the door, then smelled smoke. The blaze in a storage room caused damage estimated by firemen at $2,000.

STUTTERS TEETH O.K.

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—Two dental experts report that stuttering children have less tooth decay than those with normal speech. The pair, Dr. Howard E. Kessler and Mrs. Amy Bishop Chaplain, based their opinion on a study of 400 public school children here.

Government By Prejudice

ROBERT N. DENHAM has held his job as general counsel of the National Labor Relations board since midsummer of 1947. Every minute of that time he has been under fire by opponents of the Taft-Hartley Act. They resented him because the law which created his job aimed to bring about a fairer balance between the power and the responsibilities of labor leaders. They resented him because he deprived labor leaders of the privilege they had enjoyed under the Wagner Act of having all their affairs handled by an NLRB packed with their sympathizers.

Mr. Denham, under the Taft-Hartley Act, was charged with responsibility for prosecution and for administration of the law. NLRB, whose strong pro-union bias had been having the effect under the Wagner Act of law by edict, was made a semi-judicial body. Union leaders declared war on Mr. Denham as soon as he was appointed and never have ceased firing. They have demanded his resignation repeatedly—but now they have a new way to get at him.

President Truman is going to try to ease him out of his job with a Hoover commission recommendation for abolishing the general counsel of NLRB. The recommendation assumes the existence of an impartial board and a chief executive who will administer the law of the United States in an impartial manner. It does not take into account the fact that Mr. Truman himself is pledged to discredit the Taft-Hartley Act and that Mr. Denham has been a powerful restraining influence on those who hate the act.

Thus, what was intended to be a means of improving the organization of the executive department would become no more than a means of furthering a political plot to cage union votes by scuttling the Taft-Hartley Act. Congress will spot this and act accordingly. Mr. Truman, in effect, has asked for a vote of confidence in his point of view about labor-management relations. He shouldn't get it.

Activity Index

GENERAL MOTORS CORP. has reported for 1949 the greatest earnings ever shown by an American corporation for a single year—$656,434,232. This is equivalent to $14.64 a common share.

Unfortunately, the significance of the record-breaking earnings figure will be missed by those who will pounce upon it only as evidence that General Motors should give them everything they want.

They will fail to note that the earnings came from a record-breaking total of automobiles and trucks produced during the year—2,764,397. These products, with the corporation's other products, accounted for total sales of $5,700,835,141—also an all-time record.

Total sales accounted for a record-breaking payroll of $1,440,690,450 and a peacetime record for employment—401,326. They accounted, also, for the government's ability to collect record-breaking taxes and for the ability of thousands of Americans to share in the wealth produced by the corporation's successful activity during 1949.

If there were a system of accounting which could show an activity index for private enterprise, instead of merely a grouping of statistical information, the public would have a clearer picture than it has now. It would show that in 1949 the General Motors Corp. reached a new high level of activity and that this was favorable to its employees, its owners, managers, distributors and its customers.

It would be evident that high levels of activity are good for everybody. It would be a little harder than it is now for opponents of private enterprise to pounce on evidence of success as evidence of too much success. It would be plain that jobs, payrolls, taxes and production of wealth are the results of high earnings; that private enterprise is at its best when it is doing the most good for everybody concerned; that socialism is only another name for sharing the poverty when everybody concerned is losing his shirt.

Marking Time

SOCIALISTS on this side of the Atlantic are beginning to perk up over the British Labor party's ability to muster skinny majorities for its policies. But they may not be taking into account the strategy of the vote of confidence in the hands of such skilled parliamentarians as Winston Churchill.

The Labor party isn't going to be allowed to forget for a single instant that it is ruling Britain as a minority and will be plowed under the instant it gets too big for its britches. The Conservatives don't want to overthrow Clement Attlee and his cabinet. They merely want to keep the Laborites under pressure.

Exactly the same thing is going on in the United States, where there is no such thing as a vote of confidence. But parliamentarians and politicians have ways and means of keeping governments aware of their handicaps without that quick-death device of British politics. Congress is now marking time, because not a single new issue of any importance will be brought to a vote this year. The second session of the 81st Congress, like the first session, will reveal the limitations of a government unable to command a majority on any major issue of policy. President Truman will continue to take frequent vacations for the simple reason that he may as well enjoy himself; his government is impotent as far as forcing its will on the country is concerned. In fact, he and Prime Minister Attlee should get together for a fortnight of thoughtful conversation about the handicap of popular sovereignty.

Everybody's Getting Into The Act

The McCarthy Show

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON THIS IS a strange show here... the hearings on Senator McCarthy's attack on the loyalty of present and former employees of the State Department.

No one is predicting how long the hearings will continue. The Wisconsin Republican, McCarthy, hasn't finished reading his list of people upon whom he's casting suspicion.

The five members of the foreign relations committee's subcommittee, which is conducting the hearings, are now sort of sitting back, letting McCarthy roll off the names.

Movie lights make the room brilliant. Cameras are busy. Newsmen line both sides of two long tables. Policemen keep traffic moving through the door.

People are continually moving in, standing or finding seats, and leaving. The big room in the senate office building is packed with them. Every chair is taken.

THE DARK-HAIRED and heavy-browed McCarthy, a former Marine, bends his head over his lists and reads on, naming names. Newsmen hurry for their tables to send out bulletins on their wires.

Those news bulletins flash around the country. Other newsmen in other places see the McCarthy charges and if one of the charges lives nearby, he's quickly asked for a statement.

Back across the country flow the denials of the people McCarthy has just named. It's "boring," one says. "Fantastic," says another. "McCarthy is a cowardly liar," says another.

People listed as suspects by McCarthy will be given a chance to answer him in front of the same subcommittee and the lights and cameras.

One of them, Miss Dorothy Kenyon who testified yesterday and flatly denied McCarthy's charges against her, spoke of the damage to her reputation and wondered whether her denials could ever catch up with McCarthy's charges against her.

Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa, a Republican colleague of McCarthy, questioned Miss Kenyon and then said he has no doubt about her loyalty.

WHETHER the other charges, if they come here to state their case, will make out well remains to be seen. But, of course, this isn't a one way street for McCarthy.

When he undertook to throw suspicion on the loyalty of a number of Americans, he was sticking his neck away out. If he can back up his charges, he's done a public service in uncovering disloyalty.

But if it turns out that he can't back them up, the public memory is long, and, although McCarthy doesn't have to run for re-election until 1952, this situation probably will not be forgotten.

Senator Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the committee, for the first two days of the hearing which began last week, gave McCarthy a rough time, making him stop every minute to explain in detail the charges he was making. But, beginning Monday, Tydings has remained fairly silent, letting McCarthy rattle off the names and charges.

The reason no one can predict how long the hearings will last is because no one can predict what McCarthy is going to do. Last week he indicated he could finish in four hours or so on Monday.

He didn't. He continued on through half of Tuesday. And he still is not finished.

From Our Readers

Says Private Homes Best Editor, Salem News: Every conscientious citizen wants to feel that dependents in his county are being cared for in the best possible manner.

In the case of the dependent child, I feel that care in a private home better prepares him to take his place in the community. Care in an institution, of necessity, is of the group not of the individual. In a good foster home the child can feel that he is a vital part of that home and hence of that community.

If in exchange for that feeling of security he is asked to share in the chores, it is not more than we ask of our own children.

These foster homes, however, must be chosen by responsible people who are trained for this work. Our colleges are graduating more well-trained welfare workers every year. We trust educated people in other responsible positions and I believe that we can trust the workers in our county to put the children into homes where they will receive good care.

The fact that there are dependent children living in the homes of the community who attend school and live as other children, is one of the merits of the foster home system.

When children from an institution go out in groups they feel conspicuous. During the six and one-half years that I worked in a children's home, it was one of my duties to take the groups of children to church and on shopping trips. We always overheard the whisper, "There go the home kids." As the children grew older they resented being thought of as "different." A child who feels that he is set apart is not a happy child.

The public is not unkind, in fact folks pity the child in an institution. That child doesn't want pity, he wants to feel that he belongs. In the family unit this child can feel that he has his own place. He has a chance to grow in a way of life that is more nearly like the life he shall lead as an adult.

It is easy to sit back and say, "Put them in the home." In an institution there are individuals responsible for the care of each group. When one woman has the care of 30 or more children, there isn't much time for the problems of a single child. When children are crowded into any institution that place must be so regimented that it resembles a penal institution more than a home.

If we in Columbiana county are able to place our dependent children in good foster homes. I believe that we can feel that we are giving them the best chance to develop into good citizens.

That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.—II Timothy 3:17.

Boy Wonder

NEW YORK THERE ARE TWO unusual things about Herbert Fischbach.

He is one of the few men in America who collect silver cornerstones laying trowels. And he is the only man in America who is building what he calls "the largest single unit apartment house in the world."

At 31 Fischbach is the current boy wonder of Manhattan real estate.

He is supervising the erection of a $12,000,000 luxury-type apartment building for 651 families on a Riverside drive site where only one family used to live. But the family was that of the late Charles Schwab, the steel titan.

The new building will replace the elegant 75-room stone chateau built by Schwab at the peak of his wealth and once known as "the finest home in the United States." Schwab poured from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000 in it, and died insolvent. An odd fact about the chateau: Its refrigerators could hold 25 tons of meat, but Schwab in his last years ate only a boiled egg for dinner.

"STEEL STARTED going up for the building last week, and it'll be finished by Nov. 1," said Fischbach. "But already it is 70 per cent rented."

The apartments have about everything the wife of a city slicker might ask: Automatic waste-disposal units, electric dishwashers, fireproof paint, big closets with built-in drawing space, and maid, valet, catering and shopping services.

"A woman could live here forever and never even have to leave the building," said Fischbach, who has learned considerable about feminine psychology. Most apartments have either two or three television outlets.

"Many families today find one television set isn't enough for their needs," he explained. "There is a growing trend toward more gracious living."

There must be, as the apartments rent from $1,200 a year for a two-room unit to $3,600 for a super-duper penthouse.

But Fischbach feels the market for suites in this price range is far from glutted. He hopes to build more. How he got the assignment to build the new "Schwab house" project is quite a business success story in itself.

Fischbach quit college at 20 to learn the building business from his father, an electrical contractor. He and a partner started their own real estate firm ten years ago on a $500 investment. The partner dropped out in 1941, but Fischbach, gambling on a growing America, kept expanding his firm rapidly.

WHEN THE Prudential Life Insurance Company bought the Schwab home site for a mammoth apartment house, Fischbach did some preliminary surveys for it. "For reasons of their own, however, the Prudential people decided to abandon the project—and to sell," he said. "Every big builder and investor in town then tried to acquire the site."

Young Fischbach and the syndicate he operates with won by a simple gesture. "We put up $1,650,000 cash—and nobody could top it," he recalled. "That convinced the life insurance company we were investors—not speculators—and they financed the mortgage for us."

During the planning of the project Fischbach learned that the cornerstone for the old Schwab chateau had been laid with a silver trowel. He located and bought it. Then he found out that in the old days special silver trowels were fashioned for the cornerstone layings of famous buildings, a custom that now has pretty much died out.

He has about 20 of these fancy old trowels—they cost from $25 to $100—but he has to keep them in his office.

"I do that to keep them away from my wife," he grinned. "She wants to use them for cake knives."

'McCarren Plan'

By PETER EDSON

Senator Has New Scheme To Replace ERP

WASHINGTON WHAT MIGHT be called a "McCarren plan" to replace the "Marshall Plan" for European aid has recently been unveiled in the U. S. Senate. Author of the new plan is, of course, Sen. Pat McCarran of Nevada. He is chairman of the so-called Marshall Plan "watchdog" committee—the Joint Congressional Committee on Foreign Economic Co-operation. But in this case, it would appear that the watchdog is preparing to run off with what it is supposed to be guarding.

The McCarran plan has been made public through two Senate documents and a fine-type statement printed in the Congressional Record. None received much, if any, attention because all look routine and innocent. But buried in a "watchdog" committee "staff study," a McCarran report on his personal observations in Europe last year, and the McCarran statement are recommendations which, if adopted by Congress, would almost certainly lead to or force the resignation of Paul G. Hoffman as Economic Co-operation Administrator. The McCarran plan is that drastic, and that much in conflict with what are known to be Mr. Hoffman's views on how ECA should be run.

MAIN POINT in the McCarran plan would be ending lump-sum appropriations for the ECA and substituting specific appropriations by Congress for designated purposes. Up to now, Mr. Hoffman has insisted on general appropriations, wanting to keep his operation as flexible as possible to provide relief and recovery where they were most needed, as conditions changed.

What Senator McCarran now proposes are specific appropriations by Congress for five programs: 1. U. S. financing of a European "clearing house" program, which Mr. Hoffman has been trying to get the ECA countries to adopt voluntarily. 2. Purchase of U. S. surplus farm products for Europe. 3. Creation of an International Reconstruction Finance Corporation. (It would apparently make loans instead of financing recovery grants.) 4. Guarantee of American investors against loss of property by confiscation, nationalization or other political risk. 5. All other programs.

Senator McCarran presents no recommended sums for any of these programs. But the following estimates have been under consideration by the watchdog committee staff: For the clearing house, $500,000,000. For purchase of U. S. farm surpluses, $1,000,000,000. For the International RFC $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. For guarantees to U. S. investors, $300,000,000.

This would total between $2,300,000,000 and $2,800,000,000. And on the basis of the $2,900,000,000 now requested by Mr. Hoffman for third-year Marshall Plan operations, the McCarran plan would leave him only $100,000,000 to $600,000,000 to conduct the "all other programs" which now constitute the whole ECA operation.

IT WILL BE RECALLED that last year Senator McCarran tried to put over a $50,000,000 forced ECA loan for Spain. On top of that, Sen. John McClellan of Arkansas tried to put over an amendment that would have required ECA to buy U. S. farm surpluses for Europe.

The McClellan amendment was so bad that even the three U. S. farm organizations—Grange, Farm Bureau and Farmer's Union—opposed it. That was enough to kill it then. But with lower farm prices, this dumping provision will be hard to beat this year.

The McCarran forced loan to Spain was beaten only after herculean hammering on the fact that Spain was not a Marshall Plan country and could not become one unless admitted to OEEC—the Organization for European Economic Co-operation.

The new McCarran plan, of course, goes far beyond the amendments attempted last year. What it would amount to is converting the European aid program. And it is much more carefully prepared.

It is based primarily on "An Analysis of the ECA Program," written by Watchdog Committee Counsel Hal Lackey and his staff. It was written originally for a committee "report." But since the full committee did not endorse all its views, a decision was made to present it to Congress as a "staff study."

It is admittedly a by-product of the watchdog staff's work over the past two years. It presents factually all the issues likely to come before Congress in considering next year's Marshall Plan authorizations and appropriations.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Plague Outbreak Would Have Tragic Results

AMONG the diseases about which health authorities are greatly concerned is plague—the black death of middle ages. This is a disease which carries many explosive possibilities. Single cases are not infrequent—one was reported from New Mexico only a little while ago. The great danger, however, is from some great outbreak.

Between 1896 and 1911, about five and a half million deaths occurred from plague in three of the provinces of India, which have a combined population of about 100 million. In the winter of 1910-11, there was an epidemic of pneumonia—the droplet spread, lung-involving type of plague—in Manchuria which killed more than 45,000 persons in a few months.

An outbreak of bubonic plague developed in San Francisco in 1900; between 1900 and 1940 human cases have been reported in eight states with 499 cases and 314 deaths. Fleas on rats are the greatest carriers. When the rat dies the fleas desert the dead body and if another rat is not handy they move onto the nearest person. Because there are so many rats in this country, the disease, if it once gets really established in these pests, might explode with terrible force in almost any community. Actually, the causative germ, Pasteurella pestis, is already widely spread throughout the country. Before the outbreak of plague in San Francisco had been extinguished, P. pestis became established in ground squirrels and their fleas, so that it has now been carried by these animals to large parts of the western United States.

Fortunately, ground squirrels do not live in as intimate association with man as rats do, so that the danger of the disease from this source is not great. The process might be reversed, however, and rats reinfected from the ground squirrels.

Besides constantly guarding against this hazard, every possible care must be used so that airplanes, ships or persons coming from areas where plague exists do not bring with them new seeds of the black death.

The President sent his return in early then went off to Key West to forget. . . the first day out it was so rough he also forgot to eat.

You can imagine how rough it was when a reporter heard him murmur "if Dewey had won I wouldn't be here."

Another reporter said to one of his generals "why don't you take your seaisick pills?" He said "how can I. . . they beat me to the rail."

This is one of the few times in history that a fellow with $150,000 income has felt worse than a fellow with a $1,500 income on tax day.

Completed Turnpike Due In Pennsylvania In Two Years

By BURTON W. SIGLIN
HARRISBURG, Pa., March 15—(UP)—Within less than two years, Pennsylvania will have a four-lane, 327-mile concrete road ribbon stretching across the commonwealth tying the populous eastern seaboard with the steadily thriving, giant industrial cities of the Great Lakes region.

The finished Pennsylvania turnpike will cut five to six hours from the time it takes the motorist to cross the state. The rapidly swelling number of trucks will cut as much as a half day from their schedule.

There will be no interruptions for traffic lights, crossroads or railroad tracks in the trip from near Youngstown, Ohio, to just outside Philadelphia. It will be possible to travel the entire distance without slowing to less than 50 miles per hour.

And although the finished road will cost about $239,000,000, not a penny of Pennsylvania tax money has gone or will go into its construction.

AT PRESENT only one section of the toll road, a 160-mile stretch between Irwin, 22 miles from Pittsburgh, and Middlesex, near Harrisburg, is finished. It was completed in 1940.

A second section—the so-called Philadelphia extension—should be completed this fall. This 100-mile section runs through the most populous parts of Pennsylvania from Harrisburg to King of Prussia, 12 miles from the Quaker City.

Construction of a third section, to run 67 miles from Irwin to the Ohio-Pennsylvania line near Youngstown, has recently been started. Engineers estimate that it should be finished by the end of 1951.

The present turnpike was started in 1938 after the state obtained a $29,000,000 grant from the federal public works administration toward the cost of its construction. When the idea for the toll road first was born in the minds of highway engineers about 1934, the State Highway Department considered it impractical and visionary. The Allegheny mountains always had been a rigid barrier in the way of construction of short roads and railroads to link the east with the middle west through Pennsylvania.

MORE THAN 50 years ago, Andrew Carnegie and a group of other financiers laid out the route of a proposed railroad—the almost identical route now followed by the turnpike. The latter fact is no accident. For Carnegie's group did get as far as eliminating the circuitous route for the proposed railway by digging a series of eight tunnels under the Alleghenies. It is these tunnels that became the backbone of the turnpike sponsors plan for the toll road.

Using seven of the eight tunnels, engineers laid out plans which cut the maximum grade on the proposed road to three percent and the maximum curvature to six degrees.

Then at the site of the eighth tunnel, they built the largest highway cut in the eastern part of the United States. The cut is a 2,600-foot long slash right through Clear Ridge mountain, 157 feet deep from roadway to crest.

The longest of the tunnels is more than a mile and a quarter in length. The shortest is just over two-thirds of a mile. Their combined length is less than seven miles. But engineers estimate that they save motorists 50 miles of travel and several hours on the present 160-mile route.

THERE ARE TWO parallel free roads that run east and west through the state. Both, naturally, are longer and both have steep grades over the mountains. The Pennsylvania department of highways reports that automobile traffic on both the free highways is relatively heavy.

But truck traffic on the two roads is extremely light. The "big rigs" use the turnpike almost exclusively because the savings in time and money are high. The cost of traveling the super-road is higher for trucks than for automobiles. The car driver pays $1.50 for the full trip—the trucker from $5 to $10, depending on the gross weight of the vehicle. The weight is determined by the license tags the truck bears, a different alphabetical symbol being used for varying classes of trucks in Pennsylvania.

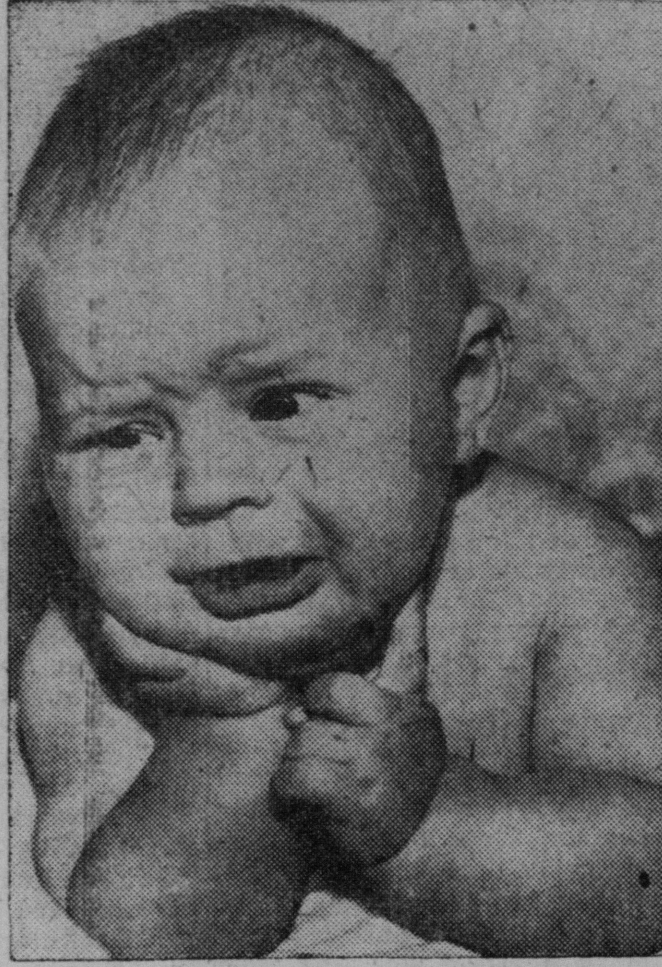

52,000 OUT OF WORK
CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—Cleveland's jobless list March 1 stood at 52,000, a drop of almost two per cent from Feb. 1, Basil C. Seiple, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office here, reports. The 39,000 men and 13,000 women unemployed represent about 8.5 per cent of the total labor force, Seiple added.

CANTON, March 15—(AP)—Trend of property reappraisals already completed in Stark county indicate a general upward revision of 14 to 16 per cent, the county board of tax revision was told in a meeting today. The last reappraisal in Stark county was in 1943.

However, members of the budget commission announced they will favor a reduction in tax rates when the appraisal is completed next fall so that tax payments will not be increased much if at all.

Joe Yoder, county auditor, presented figures showing that the various political subdivisions of the county, including schools, started 1950 with unencumbered balances.

Here's The Pitch

By BOB DIXON

WITH THE interment of basketball completed, leaving only the formality of crowning a state champion from among a select field of 16 lucky schools, the attention of Salem High and its adherents must inevitably turn to the approaching track season.

Salem's team this season will be guided by the astute hand of Frank Tarr, who doubles in brass as the Freshman basketball instructor. Taking over the reins from the departed Troy Penner, the 1949 mentor, Tarr faces the monumental task of attempting to rebuild Salem's track fortunes. Once known as the track colossus of north-eastern Ohio, the Red and Black's cinder success has ebbed to that of an also-ran of late.

Tarr's chief job will be to uncover a few performers who will be able to stay on even terms with some of the schoolboy standouts in this section of the state. Someone of the calibre of Glenn Young of East Palestine, Bill Ward's darling, would be entirely acceptable to the local track followers.

The trouble is, not every boy has the ability to be a stick-out in track and, sadly, not every boy wants to be a trackman. The interest in running and jumping and hurdling is low in Salem. It seems to be low in almost every school, except those which have traditionally had good teams. Until a school comes up with a Harrison Dillard or a Gene Cole to stimulate interest, the would-be athletes aren't infected with the track germ. Given that inspirational boost, however, you'll find every kid in town hoping to emulate his hero's feats.

SALEM IS BLESSED by being the site for most of the major meets in this district each spring. The annual Salem Night Relays, the NEO district meets in both Class A and B and the Columbiana county meet (biennially), and a raft of dual and triangular meets are all held on the fast Reilly field track.

With that springboard, it is a wonder that more boys don't take to track here. Another of Coach Tarr's tasks will be to inject some added interest in this SHS track program.

Tarr held his first workouts this week in the school gym, where the thinclads will labor until the long-awaited spring weather arrives. An encouraging group of 50 hopefuls reported for the initial practice, and about 20 more will probably turn up when the lads get out of doors.

The Red and Black has only three tried and true track veterans back this year. They are Jay England, promising discus topper, Paul Provins, stocky miler, and Lige Alexander, who took second in the Night Relay high jump last year.

Tarr will have only five weeks to whip his squad into shape, before the first dual meet with Boardman on April 18. Dual meets with Louisville and Warren and participation in the Uhrichville Relays will lead up to the Night Relays on May 6.

During those five weeks the annual search for a 10 second dashman or a 12-foot pole vaulter will be conducted. Who knows? Tarr may find them.

Salem Post To Stage Ohio

Amvet Bowling Tournament

The third annual Ohio Amvets state bowling tournament will be held at the Salem Bowling Center on April 15-16 and 22-23, with more than 40 teams from throughout Ohio expected to compete.

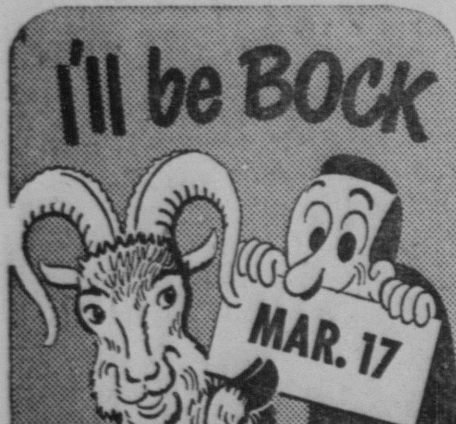

Salem Post 68, which copped the 1949 state five man event, will lead the entry list with at least nine teams, while heavy entries are expected from posts in Cuyahoga Falls and Mansfield. The record entry for the Amvets tourney is 36 teams, the number, which bowled in Mansfield last year.

In addition to cash prizes for leaders in five man, singles, doubles and all-events, the local post is giving trophies for each event, as well as the rotating team trophy, donated last year by the Mansfield post.

A handicap affair, the tournament has gained in interest since its inception in 1948. Salem's entries have been highly successful in the event. The five man champions of 1949 include Charles and Vince Malloy, Lawrence Kaercher, Merv Thomas and John Pukalski. In 1948, Carl Sobotka captured the state singles title, while Ed Pukalski and Art Kane teamed to win the doubles event.

The 1950 tournament is in charge of a committee which includes: Bob Dixon, chairman, Gordon Melow, Ed Pukalski and Don Krauss.

Town Talk Eliminated By Mullins Cagers

Amvets Triumph Over Fisher's

Sekely's, Gordon's Win In Class B Tilts

The Town Talk Class A team was eliminated from further Shaughnessy playoff competition when defeated Tuesday night for the second time by undefeated Mullins 52-36. In the other A tilt at the Memorial building, the Amvets evened the score at one game each with Fisher News, beating them 49-37.

In the first round of the Class B Shaughnessy, Sekely's continued unbeaten by stopping Hoppes Service 36-19, while Gordon Soft Water bowed to Millville 40-37.

Mullins had trouble with an aroused Town Talk team for three-quarters of the game. At one point after the half, they trailed. Gradually they pulled away and in the fourth quarter were well out from under.

Dick Treleven, after a slow start, led the scoring for Mullins with 18 counters. Don Smith had 14 for the losers.

Led by Harry Ehrhart's 18 points, the Amvets rolled over Fisher's after being beaten by the news team Monday night. John Girsch pumped in 11 for the losers.

The two teams will meet next week to determine a winner who will meet Mullins for the city title.

Sekely's sharp passing and sharper shooting completely outclassed Hoppes Tuesday. Jack Scullion paced the attack, with 17 markers, as Tom Cope collected nine.

Millville, winner of a fourth place playoff to gain the Shaughnessy's, pulled an upset by taking the Gordon five. Rutsky was high scorer at 14 points, with Miller caging 11. Harroff netted 11 for Gordon Water.

DENVER, March 15 — (AP)—Forty-two teams were entered today for the National A. A. U. basketball tournament which opens a week long stand Sunday.

Feller In Fear Of Arm Injury

Will Take It Easy In Spring Workouts

TUCSON, Ariz., March 15—(AP)—Bob Feller, who hopes to become a 20-game winner this year, was set to make his first exhibition start for the Cleveland Indians today.

Manager Lou Boudreau listed him for a four-inning stint against the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League. The Tribesmen returned to their home base after the New York Giants handed them a 5-3 beating yesterday in Phoenix.

Feller made no secret of his intention to take it easy in the training games.

"Two years in a row I hurt my arm during spring training and I'm going to make sure it doesn't happen again," he said.

In 1948, he got a stiff arm after working seven innings against the Pittsburgh Pirates in an exhibition match in Hollywood.

He didn't reach top form until midseason that year and as a result had only 19 victories, missing the charmed 20 circle for the first time since 1938.

Last year he pulled a shoulder muscle during the first week of practice and injured the shoulder again during an exhibition match. And again, he didn't reach top form until mid-summer, finishing the year with 15 wins, 14 defeats.

But this year Feller says he is in better condition than at any time during the last two seasons. "And I hope to stay that way," he adds.

The Giants got three runs in the first inning off Al Benton in yesterday's game. The big relief hurler, obviously not in form yet, was taken out after allowing six hits in his two innings on the mound.

George Zuverink, Gene Bearden and Sam Zoldak followed him and were touched for nine more blows. The Tribe was held to six safeties by a pair of rookies, Dick Adair and Roger Bowman, and by Veteran Kirby Higbe.

Rupp Absorbs Worst Beating

Kentucky Blasted By CCNY Five In N. I. T.

NEW YORK, March 15—(AP)—The National Invitation basketball tournament — an old bugaboo for Adolph Rupp — again is haunting the Kentucky mastermind. This time "The Baron" sees Beavers running about.

The Beavers — from CCNY — dealt Rupp his worst defeat in 20 years at Kentucky in the quarter — final round of the NIT last night. The score was 89 to 50.

Thus, City's white-hot quintet will meet Duquesne in the semi-finals Thursday night. Duquesne advanced with a 49-47 victory over LaSalle of Philadelphia in the opener. Bradley and St. John's will play in the other semi-final game, with the finals set for Saturday.

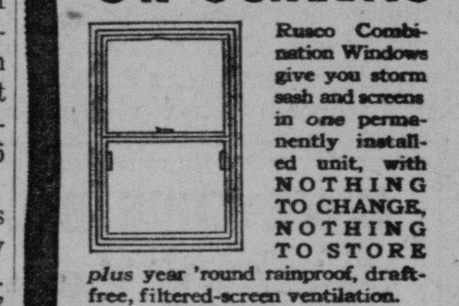

"I figured we'd win this thing," Rupp said following the rout. "No excuses, my boys were the worst ever."

Defeat in the NIT is nothing new for Rupp, his "fabulous five" was blasted out in the quarter-finals last year by Loyola of Chicago. In 1947 it was Utah's "Cinderella" outfit which upset Kentucky's favored appellation in the final. The Wildcats did take the NIT title in 1946 with a 47-46 victory over Rhode Island State.

The 18,000 fans in Madison Square Garden could not quite believe what they saw.

But Rupp believed it. In fact, he believed City could do it to his team anytime. "That's one superb ball club," Rupp said.

"Even if we played them again tomorrow night we couldn't beat them. They definitely are the better team."

And so they were. Nat Holman's slick crew could do nothing wrong. Powered by Ed Warner, Irwin Dambot and Ed Roman, the Beavers raced to a 13-1 lead and held a 45-20 halftime lead over the bewildered Southeastern Conference Champs.

The Wildcats drew within 16 points in second half, but City promptly whipped in 16 straight points as partisans in the crowd chanted "Pour it on, City, pour it on, City."

"My club usually surprises me one way or the other," said Holman, "but this was the biggest surprise of all."

Amvets Clinch Salem Cribbage Tournament

The Salem Amvets post Tuesday night clinched top honors in a two-month city cribbage tournament. The tourney ended with last night's session, held at the Democratic Club.

The Amvets beat out the V. F. W., which finished second, the Moose, Democratic Club, Dads of Foreign Service Veterans and The Hub.

Jerry Layton of the V. F. W. was elected the new secretary of the cribbage group.

Ransom, Middlecoff Pace Seminole Golf

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 15

—(AP)—Defending Champion Henry Ransom and National Open Champion Cary Middlecoff battled for top money in the final round of the 11th annual Seminole Golf Club's 54-hole $10,000 tournament.

Middlecoff, playing out of Ormond Beach, Fla., set a new competitive Seminole course record yesterday with his eight under a par 64 and a 36-hole total of 137.

Ransom, of St. Andrews, Ill., carded 34-34—68.

Two strokes off the pace were Dick Mayer, assistant pro at the Seminole Club, and Lew Worsham, Oakmont, Pa., with 139. Jim Ferrier, San Francisco; Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., and Toney Penna, Cincinnati, were tied at 141.

"Middlecoff's best shot of the day was a sand blast 70 yards from the cup which dropped for an eagle three on the 15th hole."

Middlecoff and his partner, Robert D. Huntington of New York City, shared the lead with two other teams in the pro-amateur division. They had a best ball of 32-30—62 in the first round of the pro-amateur competition which began yesterday.

Also at 62 were Denny Shute, Akron, O., professional and his partner, P. T. Sharples, New York City.

Middlecoff and his other amateur partner, C. Douglas Dillon of New York, had a best ball score of 29 on the back nine and a total of 63 to tie with the teams of Bobby Cruickshank, Gulfstream, Fla., and L. M. Lloyd, New York City amateur, and Lawson Little, Monterey, Calif., and his partner, Richard Raese, Dover, O. Raese was credited with an ace on the par four 18th hole when he canned a long approach shot for an eagle and his handicap made it one stroke.

Gussie" Gives A. P. Interview To Wear Comfortable Clothes At Wimbledon

(The following was written by Gertrude "Gorgeous Gussie" Moran, Santa Monica, Calif., tennis player, for the Associated Press.)

By GERTRUDE MORAN
CAIRO, Egypt, March 15—(AP)—I do not know what tennis clothes I am going to wear at Wimbledon. I am a tennis player. I am going to wear clothes I

LEGAL NOTICE

THE FARMERS NATIONAL BANK OF SALEM

Shareholders' Meeting
Notice is hereby given that, pursuant to call of its directors, a special meeting of the shareholders of The Farmers National Bank of Salem will be held at its banking house at 300 East State Street, in the city of Salem, Ohio, on Thursday, March 30th, 1950 at 2:00 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of considering and determining by vote whether an agreement to consolidate the said bank and The Peoples State Bank Company of Lisbon, located in the village of Lisbon, State of Ohio, under the provisions of the laws of the United States, shall be ratified and confirmed; and for the purpose of voting upon any other matters incidental to the proposed consolidation of the two banks.

A copy of the aforesaid agreement, executed by a majority of the directors of each of the two banks, providing for the consolidation, is on file at the bank and may be inspected during business hours.

R. M. STEPHENSON, President can play tennis in—the best tennis I can because I want to win the Wimbledon title more than anything else.

I read a lot of nonsense these days—people I never even talked to, writing stories saying I am going to wear a daring new costume. That is silly. I'll wear clothes I can play my best in. Publicity follows me. I cannot help it if people cook up phoney quotes about engagements with tennis players I've never seen off the court.

If Teddy Tinling who designed the lace panties—and they were only an outer garment despite all the publicity which led people to believe otherwise—has a nice costume in good taste I'll wear it. (Tinling, British designer, created the lace panties Gussie wore in the Wimbledon meet at London last year.)

I am writing this because so many silly things have been written and said about me by almost everybody except the Associated Press, which has been telling things right, so I want them to have the whole story.

Miss Moran was criticized by some Egyptian writers for playing in Cairo recently in black shorts. She explained she had only one pair of white ones left after her winter tour, and wanted to save them for the finals of the Egyptian international championships, where she won the women's singles title.

Akron Asks Court To Halt Transport Cut

AKRON, March 15—(AP)—The City of Akron has asked the courts to halt an announced 10 per cent service cut by the city's transportation system.

The injunction action was filed in common pleas court yesterday after the Akron Transportation Co. said it would make the reduction Monday and follow it by a more stringent cut later. Common Pleas Judge Frank H. Harvey will hear the case Monday.

The company's announcement came on the heels of its failure to obtain approval for increasing fares to a flat 10 cents. Three tokens now sell for 25 cents.

Under an operating franchise, the ATC is guaranteed a $75,000 annual operating profit. It said it would cut service because it already has a deficit of some $40,000 for the first three months of this year.

But the city's suit said the company has not shown that it will fall short of the $75,000 mark for 1950.

The problem was discussed last night at a small meeting of the city's bus riders.

Henry (Red) Sanders, UCLA head football coach, will start his Bruin gridders through their spring training paces on March 15.

Posy Problem On A Strapless Solved

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—New help for the poor gals trying to wear corsages on strapless evening gowns was promised today.

Since the dresses don't have straps, the problem has been where to pin the flowers.

Two answers were given yesterday at the Cleveland zone convention of the Florists Telegraph Delivery Association.

William Guy, a flower designer from Tamaqua, Pa., suggested a single flower in a medallion hung around the neck by a silver cord.

A more elaborate proposal came from Mrs. Tommy Bright, a Chicago instructor on floral arrangements. She outlined a corsage with a built in wire arrangement that would allow flowers to be hung on the dress.

The padded wire would keep the corsage's weight from being concentrated in one spot and so prevent the gown from sagging.

BUY WATERWORKS

LONDON, March 15—(AP)—Residents of London soon will have their own waterworks. They voted yesterday to buy the privately-owned system from the London Waterworks Co. for $300,000 and to spend $100,000 for improvements to the plant. The company has agreed to sell.

Parties Build Up 1950 Funds

Reports Show Huge Democratic Kitty

WASHINGTON, March 15—The two major political parties appear to be piling up cash for the 1950 congressional elections.

Both the Democrats and the Republicans took in more money than they spent, in January and February, they reported to the clerk of the house. The law requires national political organizations to file financial reports periodically.

Due to the $100-a-plate Jefferson-Jackson dinners and a hefty carryover from last year, the Democratic campaign coffers are bulging just now with close to a million dollars.

The Democratic national committee reported that it took in $147,004 in miscellaneous contributions during the first two months of 1950 and spent $42,989. It started the year with $612,082 in the bank.

On top of that, the special Jefferson-Jackson dinner committee reported revenues of $427,447 and disbursements of $8,097 up to Feb. 28.

But Neale Roach, director of arrangements for the big Democratic dinner, said the expenses will be much larger and will run up to around $116,000.

While the Republicans didn't take in as much as the Democrats, they spent less. The national committee reported total receipts for the two months of $148,325, and expenditures of $122,767. Compared with some recent GOP reports, the first 1950 accounting was a rosy one.

Elliott Roosevelt In Citrus Fruit Deal

MIAMI, Fla., March 15—(AP)—Elliott Roosevelt is expected to arrive here today to confer with Henry Cobbs, citrus processor and gift fruit shipper, on a deal described as "one of the biggest in the history of the Florida citrus industry."

Details were not revealed but it was reported it includes a project for production and nationwide promotion of frozen citrus concentrate and allied products. Cobbs, who parlayed a Miami jam and jelly business into an international operation, declined to comment on the deal but it was reported he had been negotiating with Roosevelt for some time.

AWARDED JUDGMENT

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—Common pleas court yesterday awarded Roy F. Young, 31, a seaman of Clinton, Tenn., a $63,000 judgment for injuries received when two lake freighters collided. He had sued the Interlake Steamship Co. of Cleveland for $100,000 damages. The accident was in Lake Superior June 23, 1948.

This Town Is Literally 'Undermined'

The town of Picher, Okla. (pop. 5000), faces the unsettling fact that a large area of its downtown section may collapse at any time into a giant mine cavern tunneled 250 feet below its surface. At right is an airview of the abandoned mine and downtown Picher, showing the weakest section where big cracks have already appeared in the streets. Below is one of the huge stone mine pillars, sole supports of Picher, that mining engineers have warned are shifting dangerously. Residents in a five-square-block area have been advised to move out within a month. But many refused to be alarmed. At right below, some Picher citizens look over the cracking main street and chat about the possibilities of a cave-in.

Caesarian Operation Improvements Noted

PITTSBURGH, March 15 (AP)—A panel of top-flight baby doctors reports birth by Caesarian section—surgical delivery of a baby—has become safer for a mother than for her child.

At a meeting of some 700 physicians, members of the American College of Surgeons, Dr. Franklin L. Payne, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the University of Pennsylvania, declared Caesarian deliveries are now ten times safer for mothers than they were 30 years ago.

Since 1920, Dr. Payne reported, the death rate for mothers following Caesarian deliveries has dropped from one in ten to one in 100. The decline in infant mortalities following such operations, he said, has not been as great. The infant death rate, he said, is now about six in 100.

Strike Effects Hike

Coal Price 25 Cents

PITTSBURGH, March 15 — (AP)—The soft coal strike may be over, but its effects keep cropping up. Soft coal prices today are an average of 25 cents a ton higher.

Hard coal prices also went up—in some instances as much as 75 cents a ton. The coal operators say increased costs are responsible.

The pattern was set for the soft coal industry yesterday by its biggest producer, the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. It hiked its wholesale prices 10 to 25 cents a ton.

George H. Love, president of the firm, said the increases reflect "part of the increased labor costs in the mining of coal."

hearings "until I get a couple of nights of sleep."

McCarthy said he is worn out from staying up until two, or three o'clock each morning working on his cases.

He noted that yesterday he gave the committee the names of 25 persons he described as apparently poor security risks on the basis of FBI investigations. He did not name them in asking the committee to check each of the individuals—none of them on his original list of 81.

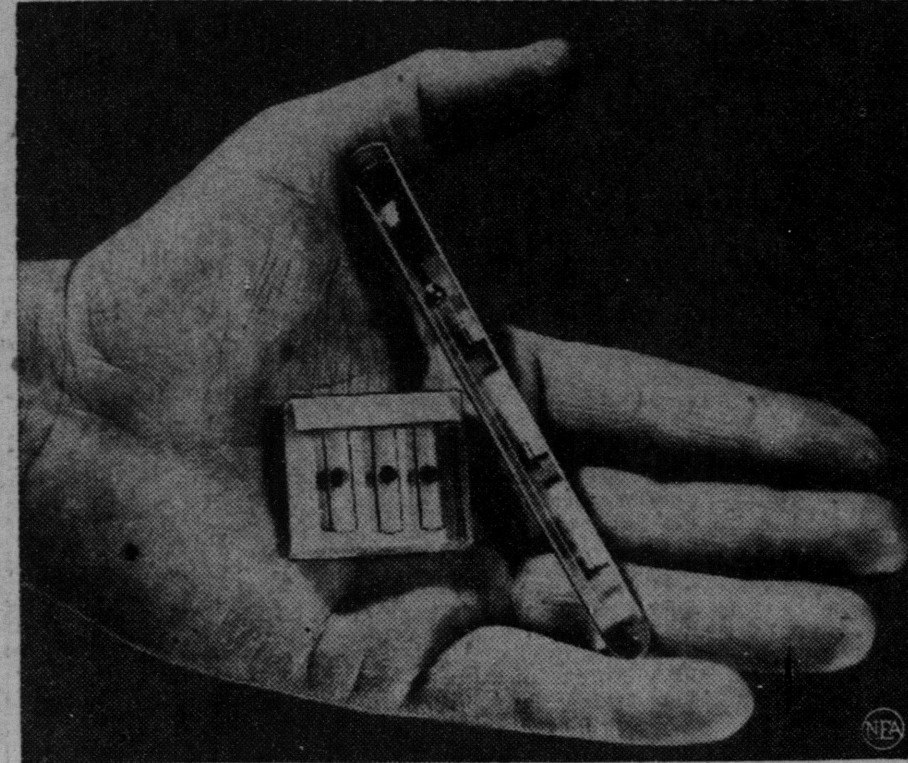

Tydings declared the group intends to go to work on the 25, but he said he would like to have all of the names McCarthy has before any move is made to scrutinize the loyalty files.

The committee has hired Edward P. Morgan, a former FBI agent, as chief counsel. He will direct the planned file search.

Morgan was on the staff of the Senate House committee which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster.

PARACHUTE TO SAFETY

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 15—(AP)—Two jet planes collided over New Mexico yesterday and three airmen parachuted safely to the ground two miles below. The crash was over Sandia special weapons base where the A-bomb is assembled.

HANDY RADIATION DETECTORS—Here are two new pocket-size "Geiger counters" developed by scientists at the University of California at Los Angeles. The detectors change color in the presence of radioactive materials, such as X-rays or atomic dust, warning the wearer that he is exposed to radiation. Small one at left resembles a packet of paper matches and can be worn around the neck like a GI "dogtag." The other is pen-like, with clip.

Laborites Survive Vote On Spending

LONDON, March 15—(AP)—Britain's Labor government last night beat a third Conservative attempt in parliament to upset the Socialist regime. The Tories unsuccessfully attacked Laborite spending policies.

The motion of censure by Opposition Leader Winston Churchill was defeated 308 to 289, giving the Laborites a winning margin of 19.

The Conservative attack was indirectly aimed at Laborite handling of the nation's vast health scheme, leaders of which had asked for extra appropriations over the amounts of their 1949-1950 budget.

But before the vote was taken Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons a halt would be called to expansion of the national health service. He also warned other departments to adhere to their budgets.

Various government departments had asked for an extra 148,402,365 pounds ($415,526,622) for the year ending March 31. Of this amount more than half was demanded by the national health service headed by the fiery left-winger in the Labor party, Minister of Health Aneurin Bevan.

Sir Stafford, defending the government, hinted that the health service might even be cut in the future.

FACES RENT CHARGE

DAYTON, March 15 — (AP)—Allen E. Johnson, 56, former manager of Wheldon Park homes in Springfield, will get a hearing in federal court March 28 on charges he diverted $1,031 in rent money to his own use. He pleaded innocent when arraigned before Federal Judge Robert R. Nevin yesterday.

CAR PARTS STOLEN

Roy George Gibson of R. D. 2, Salem, reported to police the theft of two fender skirts, valued at $20 from his car sometime Saturday evening. The car was parked on S. Ellsworth ave.
